Since all spirits and angels are desires, then, we can see that the whole angelic heaven is nothing but a love that embraces all desires for what is good and therefore a wisdom that embraces all perceptions of what is true.

MENTAL HEALTH – THE SPIRITUAL DIMENSION EVIL SPIRITS AND THEIR INFLUENCE

Physical, Emotional and Mental Suffering

Throughout the world in all cultures, there has been a recognition of 'evil spirits' -

Ancient Greek	Daimon
Ancient Egypt	Any deity written in red ink
Mesopotamia	Shedu
Judaism	Shedim
Biblical Greek	Demon
Islam	Jinn and shayatin
Hinduism	Asura
Zoroastrianism	Daeva
Japan	Oni
Native North American	Wendigo

And the list goes on...

MODERN AND POSTMODERN APPROACHES TO EVIL SPIRITS...

Carl Jung, the renowned psychologist and taking a scientific approach, sought for a way to explain why humans from all cultures and countries share, on a subconscious/unconscious level, the same mental imagery which embodies our fears, hopes, dreams and frustrations etc. His term for this imagery is ARCHETYPES. Through research, investigation and his own personal quest, Jung came to realise that we all have in common the conscious and unconscious mind and deep within the psyche of the unconscious mind there is the 'collective unconscious' – a shared memory of our ancestors and their developing consciousness. The 'collective unconscious' was an important part of Jung's explanation for why there are common symbols and myths found throughout the world, even when separated by great distances and time periods.

150 years earlier, Swedenborg described this same idea through 'The Science of Correspondences' and 'The Grand Man'. However, 27 plus years of spiritual discoveries in higher dimensions, allowed Swedenborg to go much further in his explanations. His experiences and documentations of the multiplicity of self-states now reveal to us that our inner mind is connected collectively to the spiritual dimension and we share consciousness with a spiritual community that most closely reflects our own 'loves' and mental states. Think of this as your 'soul group'. However, as we grow and change, our inner mind shifts around between soul groups – sometimes good and sometimes negative. And thus, over time, we create space, in an undesirable sense, for the influence of evil spirits or negative soul groups.

BELIEF SYSTEMS

Equally important for our connection to our soul groups are our 'belief systems'. Evil spirits go to great length to confuse and distort our beliefs about our sense of self and our life. This opens up opportunities for them to influence, attack and overtake our conscious mind. The greater the confusion and false ideas we cling to, the easier it is for various negative soul groups to lay hold of our thoughts, feelings, affections and overall goals for our life. There is a war raging on for our minds and it is fought on two fronts – our understanding (belief systems) and our will (our loves and passions).

EQUILIBRIUM – Why are evil spirits permitted to attack humans?

Couldn't the Lord bring an end to this war and eradicate our enemy once and for all time? Not until we have first had the chance to fully discover 'who' we really are by making our own choices. In order for there to be choice, there must be polarised forces allowed to act upon us. And then, there can be real freedom...

For anything to have existence there must be an equilibrium of all things. Without equilibrium there is no action and reaction; for equilibrium is between two forces, one acting and the other reacting, and the state of rest resulting from like action and reaction is called equilibrium. In the natural world, there is an equilibrium in all things and in each thing. ...in the spiritual world that which acts and reacts is called life and will. Life in that world is living force, and will is living effort, and the equilibrium itself is called freedom. Thus, spiritual equilibrium or freedom has its outcome and permanence in the balance between good acting on the one side and evil reacting on the other side (Heaven and Hell 589)

OUR BRAINS and PRAYER

The small grey matter in our heads, amongst scientific circles, is most commonly believed to be the seat of consciousness. However, a far better understanding of our brain is of a CPU- Central Processes Unit for a two-way interface – 'matter to the soul' and 'soul to matter'. Think of it as a highly complex 'soul radio'. An individual soul while on earth has a very unique advantage. Each incarnate soul has access to power and authority that disembodied souls (especially evil spirits) seek to feed upon. When we speak through language, in earthly vibrations, we affect our lives in immeasurable ways – we can pray and command evil spirits to depart –

'In the beginning, God created the heaven and the earth... And God said...' (Genesis 1:1,3).

Seven times we read the words 'God said...' and each time creation happens/manifests in time and space. We also read in verse 26 that we are made in God's image and likeness. The point I am making here is that just like our Creator when we speak (vibrations) there is a creative effect in our lives. Unlike our Creator, we may speak and there can be destructive forces released instead – 'I call heaven and earth to record this day against you, that I have set before you life and death, blessing and cursing; therefore choose life, that both thou and thy seed may live.' (Deuteronomy 30:19)

Death and life are in the power of the tongue: and they that love it shall eat the fruit thereof. (Proverbs 18:21)

The power of prayer and belief

"For verily I say unto you, That whosoever shall say unto this mountain, Be thou removed, and be thou cast into the sea; and shall not doubt in his heart, but shall believe that those things which he saith shall come to pass; he shall have whatsoever he saith." (Mark 11:23)

- Whosoever – that means anyone.
- What you say Is what you get.
- Unbelief is not a lack of faith but a unique substance that resists faith.
- Clear the heart and anything is possible.

How do we pray and not 'doubt in our hearts'? Firstly, thoughts are not doubts. We all have negative thoughts but if we refuse to act upon those thoughts then we are not actively doubting. Secondly, words are actions. If we 'say' one thing when we pray and then contradict ourselves in our everyday conversations, we are 'doubting' in our hearts and lives. Become a student of what you let your mouth speak forth. Vibrations ripple through time and space and have their effect. Speak forth your prayer in faith and then leave the results to the Lord. Meanwhile, act and speak as though He has said 'yes' to your request. Remember, the promises of God are 'Yes and Amen' (2 Corinthians 1:20)

Spontaneous Healing – Not all sickness is the effect of evil spirits but where evil is permitted to remain there will be sickness.

Kelly Tuner, Ph.D. has been studying radical remissions for over 10 years. It started with a trip around the world to interview radical remission survivors from all different countries. She went on to analyse over 1500 of these cases with a total of 250 in-depth interviews. She has documented radical remissions of every single type of cancer including inoperable brain cancers etc. Kelly has identified 75 factors that these patients have attempted to integrate in order to get well. However, not every case of remission has involved all 75 factors. She was able to narrow down 9 factors that every case of remission had in common –

1. Radically changing your diet.
2. Taking control of your health.
3. Following your intuition.
4. Using herbs and supplements.
5. Releasing suppressed emotions.
6. Increasing positive emotions.

7. Embracing social support.
8. Deepening your spiritual connection
9. Having a strong reason for living.

Casting out evil spirits

“When a strong man armed keepeth his palace, his goods are in peace: But when a stronger than he shall come upon him, and overcome him, he taketh from him all his armour wherein he trusted, and divideth his spoils. He that is not with me is against me: and he that gathereth not with me scattereth.

When the unclean spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh through dry places, seeking rest; and finding none, he saith, I will return unto my house whence I came out. And when he cometh, he findeth it swept and garnished. Then goeth he, and taketh to him seven other spirits more wicked than himself; and they enter in, and dwell there: and the last state of that man is worse than the first...” (Luke 11:21-26)

- Spiritual armour will fail when it encounters something stronger.

Casting out evil spirits works... Light is stronger than darkness.

However,

- Such practices are not enough to keep us free from attacks.
- We must become Soul Warriors and practice wearing the armour if we wish to stay free.

Casting out spirits is not as difficult as staying free of their influence permanently. There is a saying ‘you can bring people out of Babylon but can you bring Babylon out of people?’

Monolithic self Vs a multiplicity of self-states.

If we all truly have ‘soul groups’ influencing our lives, then surely there would be more evidence of their influence? Yes or No?

WHEN Timmy drinks orange juice he has no problem. But Timmy is just one of a dozen personalities who alternate control over a patient with multiple personality disorder. And if those other personalities drink orange juice, the result is a case of hives.

1. The hives will occur even if Timmy drinks orange juice and another personality like Jimmy then emerges while the juice is still being digested. What's more, if Timmy comes back while the allergic reaction is present, the itching of the hives will cease immediately, and the water-filled blisters will begin to subside.
2. Margo is one of 68 personalities. She is clinically blind, and both of her eyes wander and display lazy attributes. Margo views herself as 16 years old. When her four-year-old personality Corrie or 21-year-old personality Jackie comes into the light they can both see and Jackie can read.

Researcher Dr Braun also found cases of different eyeglass prescriptions, a personality that was colour blind while a separate personality within the same person could clearly differentiate colours, different reactions to medication and cases where eye colours would change between personality switches (Braun, 1988). Today, with MRI equipment, it is possible to see new and different brain activity when different personalities emerge in one patient.

My hope is that these notes help you get a clearer picture of how complex the human soul can be and how evil spirits interact with our lives.

Peace and many spiritual victories,

Rev Darren Brunne

APPENDIX

FURTHER TEXTUAL EVIDENCE REGARDING EVIL SPIRITS AND THEIR EFFECTS

Freedom and evil (spirits).

Heaven and Hell 597. Our Freedom Depends on the Balance between Heaven and Hell

I have just described the balance between heaven and hell and have shown that the balance is between what is good from heaven and what is evil from hell, which means that it is a spiritual balance that in essence is a freedom.

The reason this spiritual balance is essentially a freedom is that it exists between what is good and what is evil and between what is true and what is false, and these are spiritual realities. So the ability to intend either good or evil and to think either truth or falsity, the ability to choose one instead of the other, is the freedom I am dealing with here.

The Lord grants this freedom to every individual, and it is never taken away.

Evil spirits torment, Angels defend.

Secrets of heaven 751. There are evil spirits who as before said in times of temptation call up a man's falsities and evils, and in fact call forth from his memory whatever he has thought and done from his infancy. Evil spirits do this with a skill and a malignity so great as to be indescribable. But the angels with the man draw out his goods and truths, and thus defend him. This combat is what is felt and perceived by the man, causing the pain and remorse of conscience.

Spiritual Experiences 4587. But they [evil spirits] are most malicious. When they are applied, then they induce agony of the spirit, by means of tedium, which they increase and inspire continually, and thus they add impatience, which begets the greatest suffering and induces such weakness of body that [the man] can scarcely raise himself from bed. This was shown me by this means: when they were present, such a weakness took possession of [me], and when they were removed, it ceased, in proportion as they were removed. They also employ many arts, so as to infuse weariness and thence weakness.

Angels fully know us...

Heaven and Hell 246. THE SPEECH OF ANGELS WITH MAN.

Angels who talk with man do not talk in their own language, nor in any language unknown to man, but in the man's own language, or in some other language with which he is acquainted. This is so because when angels speak with man they turn themselves to him and conjoin themselves with him; and this conjunction of angel with man causes the two to be in like thought; and as man's thought coheres to his memory, and this is the source of his speech, the two have the same language. Moreover, when an angel or a spirit comes to a man, and by turning to him is conjoined to him, he so enters into the entire memory of the man that he is scarcely conscious that he does not himself know whatever the man knows, including his languages.

Evil Spirits are not creative nor original but all appear and attack the same.

Spiritual Experiences 4584 ...what is wonderful, all in hell, how many soever they may be, when viewed in the ordinary light of heaven, appear like each other, and also speak alike, so that you would believe them to be one and the same person, when yet they are innumerable, as I proved with the two kinds of sirens, -everyone speaks and acts like the others; and I saw that there were thousands upon thousands, everyone of whom was like the others.

Protection...

Secrets of Heaven 5863 If evil spirits perceived that they are with man, and that they are spirits separate from him, and if they could flow into what is of his body, they would try to destroy him in a thousand ways, for they hold man in deadly hatred. And as they knew that I was a man in the body, they were in a continual effort to destroy me, not only as to the body, but especially as to the soul; for to destroy man and any spirit is the very delight of life of all those who are in hell; but I have been continually protected by the Lord. From this it is evident how dangerous it is for man to be in living company with spirits, unless he is in the good of faith.

Spirits do not know they are with us. Angels do...

Secrets of Heaven 5862. The spirits present with a person do not know that they are present with him. Only an angel from the Lord knows that he is present, for angels are linked to a person's soul or spirit, but not to his body. When thoughts are realized in the body as speech, and wishes as actions, general influx serves as the orderly means by which they are channeled into speech or action; and this influx is governed by correspondences with the Grand Man. The spirits present with a person therefore have no part in any of this; so they do not use the person's tongue to speak, for that would amount to possession. Nor do they use his eyes to see things in the world, or his ears to hear things there. With me it is different, for the Lord has opened my interiors to enable me to see things in the next life. From this spirits have known that I was a person still in his body, and they have been given the ability to use my eyes to see things in the world and [my ears] to hear those talking to me in whose company I was present.

Evil Spirits temporarily escape their suffering through earth born humans...

Secrets of Heaven 5852. The evil spirits present with a person do indeed belong in the hells, yet when they are present with him they are not in hell but have been summoned from there. The place where they are while present with him lies midway between heaven and hell and is called the world of spirits, which has often been mentioned before now. In that world called the world of spirits there are good spirits as well, and these too are present with a person. Into that world people also come immediately after death, and having stayed there for a while they are then either banished to the lower earth, or sent down to hell, or raised up to heaven, the life that people have led being the determining factor in every case. That world serves as the upper boundary of the hells, which are closed or opened there at the Lord's good pleasure; and that world also serves as the lower boundary of heaven. It is therefore an intervening region that marks off heaven from hell. From all this one can see what the world of spirits is. While the evil spirits present with a person are in that world they are not subject to any hellish torment but enjoy the delights typical of self-love and love of the world, as well as the delights gained from all the pleasures for which the person himself has a liking; for they are present in the whole of the person's thought and the whole of his affection. But when they are sent back to their own hell they return to the state that was theirs previously.

The Co-bond between humans and spirits...

Secrets of heaven 5853. The spirits who come to a person enter into his whole memory and all the knowledge he has in his memory. By doing this they take on his whole personality, so completely that they are unaware it is not their own. This is the great advantage spirits have over man. As a result, everything a person thinks they think, and everything he wills they will; and conversely, everything the spirits think the person thinks, and everything they will he wills. For by being linked together the two act as one. Yet the spirits on one hand and men on the other suppose that whatever they think or will is something inside themselves and has its origin there. That is what spirits suppose, and it is what men suppose; but they are mistaken.

Shared thoughts...

Secrets of heaven 5860. The spirits present with a person also adopt his false opinions, whatever they may be like, as much experience has served to prove to me. Thus they adopt not only false opinions that have to do with public duties and private behaviour but also those that have to do with spiritual matters of faith. From this it may be seen that the spirits present with people who cling to heresies, to misconceptions and illusions so far as truths of faith are concerned, and to falsities, cling to the same things; there is not the slightest difference between the two. The purpose of this is that a person may be left in freedom and not be disturbed by anything of the spirit's own.

To Possess or not to possess. That is the question...

5990. At the present day there are very many spirits who wish to enter not only a person's thoughts and affections but also his speech and actions, thus the bodily counterparts of his thoughts and affections as well. Those bodily counterparts however are not subject to particular influx from spirits and angels but are controlled by general influx. That is to say, when thoughts pass into and are channeled into speech and when the desires of the will pass into and are channeled into actions, their channeling and passage into the body takes place according to order, and is not controlled by means of any spirits in particular. For to enter a person's bodily aspects is to possess him. Spirits who have the desire and intention to do this include those who during their lifetime were adulterers, that is, who took delight in acts of adultery and convinced themselves that such acts were permissible. Also included are those who were cruel people. The reason why both the adulterous and the cruel have that desire and intention to possess a person is that they more than all others are governed by the body and the senses. They have cast aside all thought about heaven, by attributing everything to natural forces and nothing to the Divine. Thus they have shut interior things off from themselves and opened up external ones, for which alone they had any love while in the world and to which they therefore desire to return in the next life through a person by taking possession of him.

[2] But the Lord makes provision which prevents such spirits from entering the world of spirits; they are confined to their own hells, shut well away. This explains why there are no cases of external possession at the present day; but there are nevertheless internal cases of it, also brought about by the hellish and devilish crew. For evil persons think the kinds of things that are filthy, also those which involve cruelty to others, as well as those that are contrary and harmful to Divine ones. Unless such thoughts were curbed by fear of the loss of position, material gain, reputation on account of such position and gain, fear of punishment by the law, or loss of life, they would break out into the open and such persons would plunge, more than those who are possessed, into the ruination of others and into blasphemous utterances made against matters of faith. But those external restraints make such people seem not to be possessed; they are however subject inwardly to such possession, even though they may not be outwardly. This is plainly evident from people like them in the next life, where external restraints are removed. There they are devils, constantly delighting in and desiring the ruination of others and the destruction of anything that is a matter of faith.

Dealing evil spirits...

Divine Providence 278. (2) Evils cannot be removed unless they appear. This does not mean that man must do evils in order that they may appear, but that he must examine himself, -not his deeds alone but also his thoughts, and what he would do if he did not fear the laws and disrepute, especially what evils he regards in his spirit as allowable and does not account as sins; for these he still does. It is to enable man to examine himself that an understanding has been given him, and this is separated from the will to the end that he may know, understand, and acknowledge what is good and what is evil, also that he may see what his will is, that is, what he loves and what he longs for.

Unbelief cast out...

Spiritual Experiences 3614. Spirits complained that they could no longer be present. Because I was abiding in the higher knowledge of faith, it was not permitted to entertain objections. They said that then they have nothing by which they can lead - saying also, by which they can mislead - for by their objections they very much mislead mankind. If they utter only a single objection then it matters not how many confirming truths there are, they are nothing. For people are then carried along by their desires, which produce fantasies, and then they willingly allow objections to enter, a single one of which carries more weight with them than a thousand confirmations. Therefore, for a person to be truly human, or to have true faith, the opposite should be the case, namely that a single truth prevails over thousands, and tens of thousands, of objections. So the evil spirits take flight, because they cannot live in that aura.

OUR BRISBANE NEW CHURCH OVERSEAS STUDENT

Jordan Brunne has been at Bryn Athyn College for over a year now. She misses her family and friends at the Church but continues to make lots of friends while achieving excellent grades. This year, she has been able to work for the College as a Residential Assistant and this helps somewhat towards her overall College fees.

She can be contacted using an app called Whatsapp or via Facebook messenger.

Jordan is continuing to work towards a Fine Arts/Psychology Degree and is looking to add some of the creative arts to this list. It is our hope that upon completion she will be able to offer us guidance in the near future as we move forward in our efforts through the Arts, to reach out to a younger generation of spiritual seekers.

We welcome anyone’s contributions financially towards her living expenses while she studies at the college. Her bank account details are -
